

CONGRATULATIONS

SOPH GRADUATES

The Colonnade

CONGRATULATIONS

SENIORS

VOL XI

GEORGIA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN, MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1936

NUMBER 23

Seniors To Graduate June 8

New Faculty Is Announced By Dr. Wells

According to an announcement by Dr. Wells, several new faculty members will be added next year. Some of the newcomers will be replace regular faculty members who will be on leave of absence for study.

It is not definite that all of the teachers named in this column will be members of our faculty, but they have been nominated as possibilities.

Miss Martha Hardin, Augusta, and Miss Madeline Mehaffey, Cusseta, students at Peabody College will be instructors in Physical Education.

Mr. John William Morgan will be Assistant Professor of Social Science.

Miss Cornelia Vaughan, of Manchester, has her M. A. from Peabody and will teach the seventh grade in the Peabody Training School.

There will be two extra teachers in Home Economics to take the place of Mrs. Owens and Miss Hasslock, who are going away to study.

In all probability there will be three or four new teachers in the training school to take the places of those going away to study.

Miss Lila Blitch has her M. A. from the University of Maryland and will teach Latin and English in the Training School in place of Miss Hooten who is to be married.

Miss Deck, acting head librarian here, has accepted a position at Furman University in the cataloging department of the library there.

Miss Virginia Satterfield who has been away this year will re-

(Continued on page 4)

Faculty Members To Study During Summer Term

A number of the members of the faculty will be away studying this summer and several will be off the campus next year.

Those attending Columbia University this summer include: Miss Ethel Adams; Mrs. W. H. Allen; Miss Margaret Candler; Mr. W. C. Capel; Miss Iva Chandler; Miss Martha Nelle Day; Miss Mildred English; Miss Maggie Jenkins; Miss Ruth Jordan; Mrs. J. T. Terry; Miss Mary Thomas Maxwell; Miss Louise Hatcher; Mrs. Alice A. Williams; and Miss Mildred Johnson, who is attending that university now and expects to complete the work for her master's degree during the summer. Miss English will study at Columbia next year also.

Dr. Paul Boesen and Mr. H. N. Massey plan to take work at George Peabody College for Teachers this summer. Mr. Massey will study sociology.

Miss Mary Bacon Brooks will attend New York University summer school. Miss Catherine McIver, the college cataloging librarian, will take graduate

(Continued on page 4)

Seniors Present Ennis Hall To Juniors

The formal presentation of senior hall to the members of the present junior class on Thursday night climaxed the senior Class Day exercises. Part of the presentation ceremonies were held on the front porch of Ennis hall and part in the recreation hall.

Seniors were grouped on the steps and on the porch while the juniors were in the drive in front of the dormitory when Caroline Ridley, senior president, made the presentation address. She presented the anchor which has represented the spirit of the graduating class for four years. Juliette Burrus and Ala Jo Brewton, incoming senior president and vice-president, accepted the anchor, and led the juniors up the steps between the seniors and into rec hall where a formal acceptance of the hall was made.

The songs of both classes were sung and also the Alma Mater. Short talks of welcome were made by Mrs. A. J. Kiser, house-mother in senior hall, and by Miss Ethel Adams.

(Continued on page 3)

147 Degrees To Be Conferred; Hooper Is Principal Speaker

CAROLINE RIDLEY
Senior President

The academic procession at the commencement exercises on Monday will include one hundred and forty-seven seniors and one hundred and eight sophomores who will be awarded degrees and diplomas during the exercises. Faculty members in caps and gowns will lead the graduates into the auditorium in the traditional procession.

Dr. W. D. Hooper, prominent Georgia educator and member of the faculty of the University of Georgia, will make the principal address, just prior to the conferring of the degrees and the awarding of the diplomas.

The tentative list of prospective graduates to receive degrees includes: prospective candidates for A. B. degrees.

Esther Adams, Savannah; Ella Bowman, Bronwood; Sara Lynn Branham, Oxford; Kathryn Conner Brooks, Greensboro; Nella Neal Burgin, Buena Vista; Sara Frances Calhoun, Mt. Vernon; Jane Cassels, Americus; Celestia Ruth Casteel, Washington; Irma Cone, Mayo, Fla.; Donnie Gertrude Dailey, Homer; Sara Jane Deck, Tunnel Hill; Maude Reynolds Dixon, Columbus; Louise Donehoo, Atlanta; Dorothy Ellis, Monticello; Mrs. Charlotte Holland Ennis, Milledgeville; Gladys Lillian Evans, Milledgeville; Josephine Fortson, Elberton; Ruth Elizabeth Gaston, Americus; Katherine White Gibson, Augusta; Martha Sue Hale, Monroe; Dorothy Marian Hester, Cairo; Jeanette Holland, Byron; Nolia Edna Howard, Gay; Minnie Ann Irwin, Sandersville; Annie Laurie Jones, Washington; Olive Celeste Jordan, Milledgeville; Garnette Lynes, Savannah; Mary Olive McGriff, Brunswick; Anne Cordelia McLendon, Groveton; Ruth Mangham, Americus; Evelyn Elizabeth Martin, Berner; Harriet Newell Mincey, Warthen; Virginia Roselyn Murray, Fort Valley; Ruby Elizabeth Oakley, Fairburn; Natalie Brantley Pardon, Blackshear; Jeanette Rauch, Dawson; Betty Reed, Gainesville; Caroline Hill Ridley, Decatur; Sara Elizabeth Rutland, Cartersville; Mary Barlice Saltsman, LaGrange; Ernestine Semraves, Fitzgerald; Evelyn Irene Senn, Dawson; Vilda Shuman, Coolidge; Flora V. Smith, Kite; Helen Staples, Mableton; Mary Brown Starr, Cordele; C. Jane Sutherland, Atlanta; Sara Sullivan, Perkins; Sara Katherine Vann, Macon; Dorothy Veal, Sandersville; Mildred Watson, Griffin; Gwendolyn Weathers, Mt. Vernon; Caroline McRae Weddington, Milledgeville; Martha Vashti Williams, Grantville; Mildred Hortense Williams.

(Continued on page 4)

Jester Play Well Received By Audience

"The Late Christopher Bean" presented Friday night proved to be a very successful culmination of the Jester activities of the year. The case rose to unexpected heights in a really good piece of work, perhaps the most successful thing the Jesters have put on this year.

Special commendation goes to Margaret Sullivan in the role of Abby, the Haggett's hired help, who "in her own way was beautiful". She gave a very sympathetic portrayal of the character and her stage presence was excellent, particularly since this is her first appearance in a major role. Mr. Noah, as the country doctor tempted at the prospect of sudden wealth, was quite convincing in his role. Mr. Capel again portrayed the rosy cheeked boy who never got to kiss his heroine. Olin Thorpe another newcomer to the campus stage was well cast in the role of the ingenue. Elizabeth Garbutt and Millie Moses as the shrewish wife and the about-to-be-old maid-daughter gave excellent support to the rest of the cast.

Dr. Walden, Dr. Salley, and Dr. McGee, as the New Yorkers in search of the pictures of the late Christopher Bean and the cause of all the trouble were very satisfactory in their portrayals. A special note should be made of Dr. Salley's derby and mustache. Dr. Walden's "iron gray at the temples" and Dr. McGee's gem of a last exit when the original Christ Bean's were discovered.

Broader Entertainment Program Provided By New Arrangement

An official announcement will be made some time this week by Dr. Sidney L. McGee, as president of the Milledgeville Cooperative Concert Association, outlining to the student body the new plan to be followed next year in arranging for a series of concerts similar to the program presented this year.

Under the new set up season tickets for the series of three concerts will be sold to the students as well as to the town people, and students will thus become active members of the local association. This then will provide for a series of entertainment completely separated from the regular entertainment series annually offered by the college and paid for with the portion of student fees set aside for entertainment.

This broadening of the entertainment program will mean that next year on the campus there will be offered two distinct groups of entertainment features. That paid for by student fees which is a part of the regular college lyceum; and that which will be offered by the Columbia Artists in conjunction with the Milledgeville Community Concert Association. The former will probably include lectures, some drama offering, and perhaps a musical number, while the Columbia division will be composed largely of musical offerings. This will provide for a wider degree of variety in programs and will offer students additional opportunity for enjoying entertainment of a very high type.

Only those students who pur-

(Continued on page 4)

Current G. E. A. Journal Carries Text of McGee's Radio Speech

The current issue of the Georgia Education Journal carries an article by Dr. Sidney L. McGee deploring the fact that materialism has become the corner stone of our educational philosophy. Ranking efficiency as our national weakness rather than a national strength because of the excess to which it has developed, he seeks the restoration of the cultural ideal proving that culture is practical when translated into our lives in such a way as to give high standards of taste and proper sense of values. "The development of a sense of values is imperative," says Dr. McGee, "if we in America are to evolve anything resembling a cultural civilization."

The text of the article was given by Dr. McGee in a radio broadcast over station WMAZ in Macon on one of the regular weekly programs sponsored by G. S. C. W. Some of the highlights of the article are reprinted below.

"In America we can boast today of a record of more than one hundred and fifty years of free, and within limits, compulsory schooling. That is a record no other nation can even approximate. Mass education is perhaps America's most distinctive contribution to educational philosophy."

(Continued on page 3)

The Colonnade

Published Weekly During School Year, Except During Holidays and Examination Periods By The Students of The Georgia State College for Women MILLEDGEVILLE, GEORGIA Corner Hancock and Clark Streets Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year

Entered as second-class matter October 30, 1928, at the post office, Milledgeville, Ga., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor Evelyn Aubry
Associate Editor Lucy Caldwell
News Editors Jeanne Armour
Mary Kethley
Betty Holloway
Feature Editor Marian Arthur

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager Frances Daniel
Advertising Manager Aviona Athon
Circulation Manager Betty Shell
Exchange Editor Bonnie Burge

Concerts

The announcement of the concert series for next year brings the assurance that G. S. C. W. audiences will enjoy a series of entertainments never equaled in the history of the school. Programs scheduled promise the same type of entertainment enjoyed during the past year, the only difference being a greater number of programs being offered for next year.

Undoubtedly, the unusually outstanding artists who performed here this year brought to the student body a new insight, a new appreciation of the arts, a new taste for the finest in entertainments. Of course, we have not become a cultured cosmopolitan audience in one season, but we are on our way toward that goal. And certainly next year's program definitely assures us of further progress along this line.

Music lovers, dramatic enthusiasts, and admirers of terphichorean art will all have the opportunity to see the very finest artists in each field perform here next year. Among those people tentatively scheduled are a well-known dance team, an instrumental trio, a baritone, a pianist and others.

Beyond the individual pleasure and artistic development which the programs this year given to individuals at the school and in the city of Milledgeville, the artist series has been an important force in creating a favorable impression of G. S. C. W. throughout the state. This year the entertainment committee was highly commended for "bringing to a college campus such an outstanding program of entertainments. Discerning people will do well to watch for the next series and take advantage of the unusual opportunity of hearing and seeing nationally—and internationally-known artists." We can easily imagine what will be said following the release of next year's program.

From the point that we have attained at present there is no going back. It is with distinct pleasure that we reflect the battle for finer entertainments has been won. After the artistic treats such as we have enjoyed this year in the four presentations of the concert association, a program of lesser caliber could not be offered to students who have had a taste of the fine things that are available and are eager for more.

To The Seniors

In the several thousand institutions of higher learning in this country as many editors of as many college newspapers are wondering what to say in the way of editorial comment to the graduating seniors.

In the majority of cases the same old drivel of congratulations, of recognition of work well done, of degrees and diplomas hard won will be ground out. Something should be done about the flow of sweetness and light from those typewriters.

As seniors you will receive a degree certifying for four years' residence at college. That's perhaps all it is in some cases. There are degrees which are not won by years of earnest endeavor although they are seldom mentioned in editorial farewells to the graduates. You may be one of those persons who breeze through college, who was exposed to education without any serious effect. You may even be the kind of individual who can breeze on through life. In most cases this will probably not be the case.

Of course there are some who have really worked for their degrees, to whom that certificate is a justly deserved reward. But it is not for them that this is written. They have already discarded the rose colored glasses affected by most graduates.

The four years here have been a calm, sheltered existence with no decisions more momentous than the selection of a major subject to be made. After graduation, you will really be on your own in some cases. What have you received from college with which to arm yourself?

Certainly it is to be hoped that after four years of college life, during which period you have seen seniors go out amid a blaze of glory and find that the world was not just marking step waiting to be conquered. Of course the world can still be denied. There is work to be done, there are dents to be made, perhaps even worlds to conquer, but not just because of the fact that you are a sweet girl graduate.

Jesters

Following the final dramatic production of the year by the Jesters when they gave "The Late Christopher Bean," we are all ready to offer our congratulations for a fine performance, and to commend the Jesters for the innovation they started this year—that of having faculty members play the leading male roles.

Having faculty members in the cast makes us realize the inadequacy of girls playing male roles. And that, until last year, was the custom. Even having G. M. year, was the custom. Even having G. M. C. cadets in the cast was not a decided success, although it was much better than having a cast made up entirely of G. S. C. W. students.

The type of dramatic productions offered this year by the Jesters has been of a much higher type than ever before, or was ever possible before. They had an opportunity to present more serious plays and to offer roles that were worthy of the more mature and experienced dramatic students.

We feel that great steps of progress have been made during the past year by the dramatic students, not only for themselves, but for the student body by giving us good entertainment other than the regular concert series.

Following the "Bill of Divorcement" given by the Jesters in February, we felt that the entire cast was due congratulations, with special mention going to a few of the characters. But following "The Late Christopher Bean" we feel that the entire cast is due much praise, and special mention going to every member of the cast—to Margaret Sullivan, Max Noah, Elizabeth Garbutt, Millie Moses, Olin Thorpe, W. C. Capel, W. C. Salley, Earl Walden, and Sidney McGee. The directors, Mrs. Max Noah and Catherine Mallory also come in for their share of congratulations.

Editor's Notes

THE NEW 1936 SPECTRUMS have just been received from the publishers. In our opinion this new edition of the yearbook is just about the best one ever put out at G. S. C. W., and the entire staff deserves much praise. We like the theme of the book as it typifies life on the campus this year. The campus views are really beautiful, as is the whole book.

We offer our congratulations to Milledred Watson, Ruth Flurry, and Virginia Drewry and their assistants for such a marvelous book. The 1936 Spectrum is our idea of exactly what a yearbook is supposed to be.

In this issue of the paper you will find that BETTY REED has been unveiled as PHILLIPA, the anonymous columnist who has put the fear of the press into most of you all year. (And particularly Dr. Salley.) We are mighty proud of the fact that Betty's identity has been kept such a profound secret for so long a time—with apologies to those who "knew.") It is the only way to conduct an honest scandal column and although Phillipa is accused of lack of intestinal fortitude for skulking behind her cloak of anonymity, the fact is that it's a pretty hard job to keep from bragging when some rare soul whose name never gets in the column praises Phillipa.

Although Phillipa is generally condemned, she really does constitute a strong force for reform. Sometimes we think that the remarks in a dirt column, even when they are taken the wrong way by those who don't understand subtle remarks, exert a greater influence for good than all the professional soul savers who attempt to raise us from the mire. By dragging "slips that come in the night" into the light, Phillipa has made some hardened souls feel pricks of injured pride which may easily be mistaken for nudges of that inner feeling called "conscience." Ridicule is a powerful weapon and we honestly believe that some ridiculing statements made by Phillipa made some headway of calming down some of the campus pests. Although Phillipa had rather be drawn and quartered than admit her motives were anything than base, or to ridicule, we have a sneaking suspicion that she has been a reformer at heart all the time.

May her shoes never be clear of mud, or her eyes too bleary to peep through a keyhole. In other words, may she be a miniature Walter Winchell.

WE TAKE TIME OUT TO

congratulate the Spectrum staff again for their choice of a new editor and staff. From the looks of things they will get out another yearbook that will make history. With the experience that Editor Ruth C. Cadets in the cast was not a decided success, although it was much better than having a cast made up entirely of G. S. C. W. students.

AND SO AT LAST the contract for the building of the new dormitory has been awarded after all these years of haranging and getting nothing settled. We are looking forward to the construction of the building, but, being a pessimist, we're not holding our breath. We've heard it too often. But at that, it sounds good, to say that the construction of the new dormitory will be begun in the very near future.

The new dormitory, when and if built, will fill a very definite need for more housing facilities on the campus. Other buildings have been over-crowded for some time, and this will relieve to some extent that problem.

WE ALSO OFFER CONGRATULATIONS to the Red and Black newspaper at the University for being selected as one of the college honor papers in the United States. The selection was made by the National Scholastic Press Association from 196 publications. The Red and Black was one of twenty papers given this national rating. The selection was made on the basis of make-up, news, editorials, and features.

Phillipa Kolum

Well, this is my second column. How's it, Babe? This business of imitating Winchell—don't laugh—is very much the stuff. Or do you think so?

I am becoming quite adept in squinting through keyholes and keeping an immobile face when people are doing things which would make good copy for this column.

Have already had some experience which should put me in the front ranks of dirt columnists. But I really must make some explanations before anything else is said. Something in my first column was inadvertently taken in the wrong way, and I hurt some people's feelings. I am terribly sorry and I hope that hereafter when ever I say anything that it will be taken in a spirit of fun, and that you will know there is no base motive behind it all. I hate like the dickens to start out my journalistic career with so-called nasty remarks, and I am sure that nothing personal whatsoever is, was, or will be meant by what I write.

Seems that Minnie Ann Irwin, in spite of the fact that she's just celebrated a birthday and that makes her—is it sixteen, Minnie Ann?—just can't settle down and be dignified. She's too little to be dignified, anyway. But what I started out to say was about Minnie Ann's little accident up town Tuesday. You all know "Grampa" (Santa Claus to some of you) who works up town next door to the Sandwich shop, don't you? Well, anyway, if you don't, go by to see him and get acquainted. Minnie Ann was walking down the streets, on the outside of the sidewalk, and "Grampa" was standing in the door of store.

Nobody seems to know what happened next, but all of a sudden Minnie Ann and "Grampa" were trying to straighten things up and discover whose arm was whose, and which foot belonged to who (or is it whom?). I still can't see how the "Collision" (as some colored by-standers called it) happened. Minnie Ann was so embarrassed and she apologized for hours—and you couldn't hear a word she said.

Dr. Bolton has truly got ideas about men which we have never got from any psychology books. She was describing a man the other day and said he "was tall—between six and seven feet." Maybe I'm just dumb, but I still don't get the point.

Ruth Ridgway and Martha Hale very helpfully supplied me with a bit of copy all on account of a bowl of preserves. They let a bowl slip from their fingers at breakfast recently and nearly demoralized Ennis dining hall. When it was all over it was found that everybody at the table had preserves or coffee in their laps (the bowl fell in Martha's coffee cup) and milk in their shoes.

Seen at the dance. Eolyn Greene's boy friend after intermission. Vida Thurmond and her fiancé, the wedding they say is to be in late summer. Katie Bell with Roy Tarrow. Carolyn Coleman's boy friend with the Black Shirt, who comes to all our dances regardless.

Dr. McGee strangely absent. Dr. Taylor sitting over holding up

(Continued on page 3)

Blue Ridge Plans Announced By Y

The Southern Student Conference will meet June 11-20 at Blue Ridge, North Carolina. The conference is under the auspices of the regional councils of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. The aim of this conference will be to discover and redefine the essential nature of religion and to find a meaning for each individual's life in relation to God and other individuals.

During the past eight months students representing all the associations in the South have been planning the conference program. Jane Cassels, retiring president of the campus Y. W. C. A., is one of the two chairmen in charge of the conference. Following is an excerpt from the Blue Ridge Catalogue in regard to her.

"Jane Cassels is the South's contribution to national leadership. Soon after being elected president of the Y. W. C. A. at the Georgia State College for Women, she became chairman of the National Student Council. In this her senior year, she is a member of the Recreation board and Student Council of her school, and as a seasoned debater she wears the Pi Kappa Delta key. Never content with second-hand information about social problems, Jane spent last summer delving personally into living conditions in New York City."

Outstanding leaders who will conduct forums and make addresses include Dr. Edwin McNeil Potest, pastor of Pullen Memorial Baptist Church, Raleigh, N. C.; Dr. Harlow, professor of religion and Biblical literature at Smith College; Claude Nelson, Rhodes scholar, lecturer; Dr. Neibuh, professor of Applied Christianity at Union Theological Seminary; Dr. Koo, Chinese student leader; Miss Winifred Wygal, of the national staff of the Y. W. C. A.; Rose Terlin, also of the national staff; Mr. Durham, secretary of the Wesley Foundation, Cornell; Everett Clinchy, director of the National Conference of Jews and Christians; W. D. Weatherford, president of the Y. W. C. A. graduate school and founder of Blue Ridge.

Phillipa Kolum

(Continued from page 2)

the wall, and looking quite disgusted with life in general, and dancing students particularly. Claudia Little's "little" brother gallantly doing things to the henn of Claudia's dress which someone stepped on. Ruth Meeks, the "Little" boy's gal friend, with a date from Georgia. Culver Kidd being very businesslike and starting on his new job with a bang when he met the new editor of the Spectrum (Culver's working for an engraving company next year.)

"Doc" MacIntire at Culver Kidd's is leaving town on Sunday. What will this "Phillipa" do for copy? But we should give the girls in Brunswick a break, I suppose, and wish Doc well.

—PHILLIPA'S SUCCESSOR

Elementary Group Nominates Heads

The committee appointed to nominate officers for the Elementary Education Club next year decided that the matter be left in the hands composed of girls who will return for the 1936-37 session; this committee to be responsible for the initial meeting of the club next year and for the nomination of officers from the membership of the club next year. This committee is composed of: Chairman, Elizabeth Donovan; Lucy Caldwell; Catherine Hart; and Nancy Daniel. The retiring officers of the club are: President, Felice Kimbrough; Vice President, Jessie Anton; Secretary, Lois Broome; and Treasurer, Dorothy Brown.

Movies

THE MARCH OF MOVIES ON!

The Campus continues to offer good shows in spite of the fact that exams are right on us, and we must study some. Study you must see.

Monday and Tuesday, the Campus is offering Irene Dunn and Allan Jones in the revised, brand new and super-colossal (so the reviewers say) picture, "Show Boat."

All of you who remember Irene Dunn in "Roberta" remember what a lovely voice she has, and those who saw "Rose Marie" will remember Mr. Jones and his voice, too. Have an idea the picture is just another one of those voice-exposes but it'll be worth it even if that is what it is.

On Wednesday, that erect-pa cool-fa, Eddie, can be seen in "No Body's Fool." He is a scream, and the picture will surely be a relief after all the exams of Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. From what we hear, it's just another Horton picture, but that's all right. We confess to a low-brow (if you call it that) liking for Eddie and his humorous antics, and we can't help it.

The Thursday and Friday picture may come just a bit late for some of you, but it'll be grand anyway.

Warner Baxter will be seen in "The Prisoner of Shark Island." It's a four-star picture, rated so by all critics, whether they dislike the fashionably-dressed Mr. Baxter or not. It's another one of those hell-raising, prison-breaking, prison-horror affairs, but it's plenty good. Warner Baxter certainly gives "the" performance of his career, and he's ably supported by a cast that will give you plenty to talk about.

Frosh Writers Form Club

Underclassmen are coming into their own with the organization of The Scribblers, a new writing club for freshmen and sophomores only. Officers of the new club include Mary Kethley, president; Virginia Forbes, vice-president; Margaret Barksdale, secretary-treasurer; and Joyce Hurt, keeper of records.

The club is unique in that it is the first of its kind to be organized for under classmen exclusively. The purpose of the organization is to encourage, stimulate, and develop creative writing.

Sports

Now what do you know about that? And we, the upper criteria or shall we say, upper classmen, thought we were unexcelled. That goes to show you how fooled you can be. Surely it couldn't be Lux, Listerine or Life Buoy. Freshman... could it be you go out for serious recreation more often?

Along comes archery and the Freshmen put it in a bag and keep it there. One unties the bag and out comes Mary Batchelor with her hard earned bow and first place. Emily Cheeves follows, in second place, with arrows, and Norman Mitchell follows with more arrows. By that time, we figure there's no one who can shoot like the Freshmen unless it could be Virginia House. And she's a Freshman. Heaven help the playing upper classmen!

Well, the swimming pool has made us realize we've got more than one mermaid at G. S. C. W. What's your opinion of the swimming meet? I'm of the opinion we could have more of them—the meet last Tuesday night was swell. And again the Freshmen pull out their trick card and show us how to swim and dive. First place goes to Williams for high score. Godbee follows with a close second. Perkins splashing a neat third.

Events
Back Crawl Barlett
Front Crawl Godbee
Side Stroke Bethel
Elementary Back Stroke Reddick
25 Yard Dash Williams
Diving Perkins

A demonstration was given at the close of the meet, featuring seal diving, tandem swimming and water snakes. What a meet! Our deepest thanks and appreciation to Miss Kitzinger for her two years as advisor for the Recreation Board. Without her help, we would have been lost. She's a north star to any Recreation Board. A million thanks to you! Miss Kitzinger.

And now we have the pleasure of announcing that Miss Andrews, a new-come to the campus, has been elected as advisor for the coming year. And with her previous experience, come ideas and plans that we hope to work wonders with. We know we have her support, with this we wish to pledge curs. Here's to a most successful and happy year!

We are sorry to announce that the tennis tournament was held up several days by an unavoidable accident. Also we wish to correct a statement made in this column last week. Miss Katy Belle Roberts requests that her correct weight be given. So... the 400 lb. Katy Belle broke the court playing tennis last week, and several days were necessary for repairing it. In case anyone is in doubt, the upper court, nearest the Practice School is a good eye-witness. Has anyone any suggestion to make other than keeping Miss Roberts off the courts?

How did you like the Baseball games? Fine playing was done by all, but of course the winners had to win.

I've struck a brain storm! How's this for getting Blue Horse Wrappers? Every team that loses has to pay a tax of one hundred wrappers to the Recreation Board. I've a sneaking motion the Horses would drag bicycles in by the carloads. Personally I'd like 1

Relations Club Ends Year's Work

Friday, May 22, the International Relations Club held its last meeting of the year in the form to a picnic at Flat Rock, on the Eatonton road. The I. R. C. has done some very creditable work this year, and in order to round out the program the officers felt that a picnic would be a fitting climax.

Those going on the picnic were Margaret Black, Elizabeth Donovan, Eunice Hunt, Virginia Joiner, Virginia Smith, Holt Tharpe, Sara K. Vann, Lucy Caldwell, Miss Helen Greene, Mrs. Fern Dorris, Dr. Amanda Johnson, Mr. Herbert Massey, and Dean Hoy Taylor.

The Club is one of a series of clubs throughout the United States and foreign countries which are organized under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Its purpose is to promote interest in and knowledge of international affairs among the students of the college in which the clubs are located.

Membership is by invitation and on the basis of a high scholastic average. The faculty of the Social Science Department are also members.

The club programs are built around the program subject for the year, and vary in from round table discussions to Model League Assemblies. The program subject for this year has been "Current Affairs Throughout the World."

The officers for next year are: President, Lucy Caldwell; Vice-President, Bonnie Burge; Secretary, Grace Talley; Treasurer, Virginia Smith; Faculty Adviser, Miss Helen Greene; and Executive Board, Doris Godard and Elizabeth Donovan.

Class Day

(Continued from page one)

Following the presentation ceremonies, the seniors entertained at open house in honor of the juniors.

Those assisting in entertaining were Josephine Fortson, Kathryn Brooks, Mary Lillian Murphey, Martha Phillips, Minnie Ann Irwin, Ruth Ridgway, Ladye Brown, Catherine Gibson, and Betty Reed. Martha Hale was in charge of the decorations.

Special guests included Mrs. Martha Christian, Miss Nora Cone, Mrs. M. M. Martin, Mrs. L. A. Key, Mrs. J. M. Bates, Miss Iva Chandler, Miss Mary Thomas Maxwell, and Miss Polly Moss.

see a few new bicycles, after Dr. Boeson and Dr. Cornelius get thru tearing up the ones we have. But didn't they look ducky pedaling around last week? Save your wrappers and you will save walking—by riding the new bikes.

The Golf tournament is showing prospects of a few Bobby Jones and Gene Sarazens. Juliette can't hit the green, but she can hit the paint off any car on the front campus. Jean Parker is getting pretty good at caddyding too. Maybe we'll make good doodle bug hunters out of them yet. But were you surprised at the winners?

Vacation is here! Don't forget to play hard all summer and come back prepared to play hard all next year. Yours for a playing good time. The Sportsman.

MISS ETHEL ADAMS
Dean of Women, to address Peabody Graduates.

McGee

(Continued from page one)

phy and naturally so, because democracy is based on the premise of an enlightened electorate.

"But how enlightened is our electorate? To what great heights of intellectual capacity have the masses of the country been elevated in their century and a half of schooling? To the funny paper stage I should say"

"The school is the greatest melting pot in this melting pot nation. . . . The mould of instruction is the same for all. It is fitted to the needs real or imagined of the masses. The subjects taught are no longer weighed in the light of their cultural qualities or in the light of their power to contribute to the refinement of the individual. They are weighed in the light of their power to contribute to the earning capacity of the pupil. . . . Our schools no longer aim at training leaders, but at forming efficient cogs in the existing social machine, at training good followers.

"Now the experience of the masses has largely to do with practical matters, with keeping the wolf from the door. . . . That is a heritage of our pioneer days and is not a matter of which we need to be ashamed. But for such materialism to become a corner stone of our educational philosophy is tragic.

"I charge that materialism is at the root of our economic, social and political ills, our short sighted nationalism, our wars. I further charge that schools systems which aid and abet materialism . . . are betraying their trust which is to lead society to higher and better spiritual living, not to bigger and better salaries.

"Culture. . . becomes practical when it is translated into our lives in such a way as to give us high standards of tastes and a proper sense of values. Now it is imperative that this sense of values be developed if we in America are to evolve anything resembling a cultural civilization. If our schools of our cultural heritage that heritage will be lost. Materialistic education threatens to carry us back into the darkness by denying us our cultural birthright. Give us, then, in the name of the progress we profess to desire, a restoration of the cultural ideal. Let us not allow our schools to leave us in ignorance of things which, in the long run, lift men from barbarism into civilization."

REV. R. W. OAKEY
Who will preach baccalaureate sermon.

Graduate

(Continued from page 1)

Cordele; Sybil Wilson, Davisboro; Hazel Witherington, Pineview.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science: Doris Adamson, Atlanta; Martha Cheney, Albany; Dorothy Coleman, Devereux; Nan Glass, Atlanta; Mary Elizabeth Grette, Hawkinsville; Frances Floreine Herron, Columbus; Frances Louise Hodges, Hapeville; Ashley Horne, Hawkinsville; Viola James, Atlanta; Sara Louise Owen, LaGrange; Rosalie Sutton, Brunswick; Mabelle Alison Swann, Arco; Edith Tanner, Atlanta; Georgellen Walker, McDonough; Mary Carey Willis, Columbus.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Secretarial Training: Virginia Drewry, Griffin; Rose Kiel Ivey, Milledgeville; Alliene Wright Griffin.

Prospective candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Home Economics: Thelma Arnold, Devereux; Mary Zena Baker, Milledgeville; Frances Patricia Bryant, Atlanta; Austelle Colwell, Blairsville; Mrs. Drew Lawrence Cotton, Milledgeville; Amy Beatrice Draughon, Savannah; Frances Elton, Tennille; Marilucy Hammett, Hapeville; Ann Hugh Hancock, Jefferson; Mary Elizabeth Harralson, Decatur; Lora Ethel Helton, Sandersville; Ida Mildred Henry, LaFayette; Clara Richardson Hollinshead, Milledgeville; Palma Holt, Waycross; Ina Mae Jones, Atlanta; Henrietta Floride Moore, Milledgeville; Mary Lillian Murphey, Augusta; Venta Lee Osburn, Ellijay; Avis Purdue, Alamo; Martha Lansdell Phillips, Augusta; Minnie Belle Pryor, Dublin; Ruth Elizabeth Ridgeway, Canon; Lucille Rogers, Reidsville; Florence Shearouse, Brocklet; Cecelia Smith, Albany; Edna Earl Smith, Mt. Vernon; Doris Davis Steed, Eton; Hazel Stewart, White Plains; Vida Edna Thurmond, Midville; Minnie Belle Wall, Ellaville; Ida Williams, Macon.

Prospective candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education: Suejette Adams, West Point; Mary Jane Alsbrook, Fort Valley; Clifford Arline, Cairo; Mary Bayne Beals, Miami Beach, Fla.; Lucille Bloodworth, Macon; Sara Lucille Brannen, Statesboro; Ada Estelle Brown, Rochelle; Elizabeth Brown, Macon; Ladye Brown, Royston; Margaret Buie, Rentz; Margaret Burney, Macon; Archie Claire Carithers, Fort Valley; Anne Carmichael East Point; Loraine Carmichael, Abbeville; Barbara Chambers, Toombsboro; Annette Dozier Daniel, Morgan; Elizabeth Daniel, Villa Rica; Elise Dorsey, Pitts; Sara Helen Ferguson, Desota; Inez Forester, Sulphur Springs; Lillie Jewell Highfield, Powder Springs; Rose Lee Howard, Sylva; Ella Pearl Hudson, Milledgeville; Sara Ellis Johnson, Byronville; L. C. Lovelace, West Point; Annie Alford McGoogan, Quitman; Margaret Elizabeth McWhorter, Atlanta; Nelle Mann, Charlotte, N. C.; Virginia Norton, Newton; Ray Pilkenton, Molena; Martha Frances Reeves, Roberta; Sarah Dargan Richardson, Gordon; Kathleen Roberts, Gainesville; Weldon Seals, Waycross; Runette Simmeron, Milledgeville; Mary Alice Stevens, Preston; Bessie Eugenia Tyner, Macon; Mary Cordelia Valentine James; Mrs. Lillian Bakeless Webber, Milledgeville; Kate Wisdom, LaGrange; Mrs. Sarah Heard Wise, Batesburg, S. C.

Tentative list of those to be awarded normal diplomas: Sara Elizabeth Abbott, Columbus; Margery Benton Allen, Columbus; Jessie A. Anton, Atlanta; Margaret Evelyn Black, The Rock; Mary Clifford Bowlan, Barwick; Doris Irene Boyer, Sparta; Martha Amanda Bray, Roberta; Mary Nelle Briscoe, Monroe; Elizabeth Brooks, Washington; Dorothy E. Brown, Unadilla; Elizabeth Busbee, Lilly; Lucy Caldwell, Smyrna; Mary Irwin Callaway, Tignall; Mary Irma Capps, Augusta; Sara Ellen Collins, Flint; Laura Victoria Cromartie, Soperton; Mary Carolyn Davis, Columbus; Eunice Viola Dial, Watinsville; Elizabeth Land Donavan, Sandersville; Martha Anne Drew, Gay; Ethlyne May Dumas, Culloden; Virginia Howel Echols, Washington; Margaret Etheridge, Milledgeville; Catherine Garner, Glenville; Edna Earl Gignilliat, Atlanta; Carolyn Gilbert, Zebulon; Martha Smith Gordy, Perry; Miriam Gordy, Perry; Louise Hancock, Knoxville; Margaret E. Hanev, Newman; Frances Isobel Hanne, Harlem; Ophelia Hardy, Washington; Sara Hodges, Oconee; Beverlie Holland, Claxton; Madie Aillen Holton, Davisboro; Marion McLeod Horn, Boston; Eunice Hunt, Kathleen; Beutelle Jackson, Harrison; Mary Jackson, Atlanta; Emma Lloyd Jenkins, Midland; Virginia Mae Joiner, Vidalia; Emmie Elizabeth Jones, Norwood; Mary Eugenia Jones, Columbus; Katherine S. Kelley, Elberton; Lucille Kennedy, Baxley; Madeline King, Dalton; Mary Wellens Leverett, Wellston; Rosina Littlefield, Blackshear; Julia Tucker Lockhart, Milledgeville; Fanny B. McClure, Acworth; Lora Burman McPhaul, Tuskegee, Ala.; Martha Lucille Martin, Cohutta; Frances Mae Mitchell Hazlehurst; Nelle Mizelle, Rhine; Marjorie Mulligan, Glanville; Eleanor Grace Murphey, Moreland; Mary Louelle Newberry, Iron City; Bernice Miller Newsome, Soperton; Virginia O'Neal, Roberta; Martha Louise Paschall, Harlem; Margaret Blanche Patrick, Quitman; Sara Jeanette Patton, Hapeville; Esther Drake Phillips, Hawkinsville; Evelyn Quattlebaum, Unadilla; Marion Reid, Villa Rica; Frances Roane, Atlanta; Frances Morrow Royston, Jonesboro; Helen Inez Sadler, Hartwell; Mary Gladys Sandifer, Adrian; Ruth Saunders, Roberta; Emily Raiford Simpson, Rockmart; Julia Kathleen Smith, Jesup; Naomi Vivienne Spell, Fitzgerald; Estha Tommie Spence, Hogansville; Elizabeth Standard, Thomson; Alice Anita Stanford, Jacksonville, Fla.; Wylene Stokes, Eastman; Nelle Stokes, Gordon; Willie Lou Sumner, Adrian; Claudine Ward, Hazlehurst; Dorothy Lee Ward, Blackshear; Mildred Dorothy Watson, Wellston; Merv Pauline Weaver, Dudley; Sara Ellen Whitley, Concord; Mary Ruth Williams, Stapleton; and Mrs. Frank Woodward, Damascus.

SPECIAL NOTICE

By way of allaying the curiosity you have felt all year over the identity of the author of the most popular section of the Colonnade—the only thing which the editors have had entire freedom from criticism (since Dr. Salley's name has been dropped from the roll of encephalographers), we wish to announce to the "public" that "it" is none other than the "retiring" editor. (Dr. Taylor has something to say about that "retiring" business.)

Betty has snoped around all year keeping her eyes and ears open, seeing all, hearing all, and telling almost all. We gave her the job because she had to be around at all places on the campus anyway, so she might as well dig up the dirt. She has been bedeviled by all—as editor—to tell who Phillipa was, so she has rightfully received all the scars due her, which, however, were acquired because she as editor refused to reveal the identity, and not because she was Phillipa. We flatter ourselves that no one knew it—except possibly Betty's roomies.

Tentative list of those to be awarded secretarial diplomas: Jean Dorothy Aebersold, Atlanta; Mayme Eunice Allen, Folkston; Carolyn Virginia Barnett, Griffin; Frances Aline Barron, Thomson; Dorothy Marie Botdorf, Decatur; Frances Helen Bradley, Waycross; Edith Carolyn Buckner, Machen; Stelle Faye Cathey, Gordon; Geradine Chambliss, Waycross; Eula Baye Chasteen, Waycross; Carolyn Crockett; chase student tickets in the local association will be eligible to attend the series offering the Columbia Artists. Membership drive will very probably begin shortly after the opening of school. Students who have been here this year are familiar with the type of entertainment this will include and the response should be quite favorable to this enlarged opportunity for superior concerts.

Concerts

(Continued from page 1)

This is the most advanced step taken thus far in the constant attempt to improve entertainment features on this campus; an attempt that has been carried for some years and which was greatly advanced by the formation of the Milledgeville Cooperative Concert Association last year and the subsequent bringing here in conjunction with the college such artists as Goya, Toscha Seidel, Wilbur Evans, and the Russian Imperial Singers.

This new plan will be even more broad in its scope as it will provide additional entertainment, for the most part musical, to those who desire it, and still the college will carry on its regular entertainment program.

New Faculty

(Continued from page 1)

turn to take her place as head librarian.

Miss Margaret Sutton will be away and her place will be filled by Mrs. Elizabeth Grant Overstreet.

Miss Katherine Scott and Mr. Thaxton, who have both been in New York studying, will be back for the 1936-37 term.

Mr. D'Andrea will take charge of the Instrumental part of the Music Department next year, and the heads of this department expect to do some very fine work. Mr. D'Andrea is from New College and is serving in a place corresponding to our cadet teachers.

The acquisition of all these people speaks decidedly for the progress of our school. We will be glad to have them all on the campus and as members of our faculty.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Pocketbooks to Match Your

Ensemble—At

ROSE'S

5c, 10c, 25c Store

12 Different Kinds Ice Cream

REX CAFE

And

ICE CREAM PARLOR

From a Nickel Hot Dog to A Banquet

"SANITONE WITH SNOW"

Dresses Cleaned
and

Pressed50c

PHONE 440

SNOW'S

BELL'S

Special Sale of Julius Kayser
Silk Hose. All Pure Silk—Full Fashioned.

79c and $1.00

If You Want to Get Good
Milage, Buy Kaysiers.

E. E. Bell Co.

BINFORD'S DRUG STORE

"A FRIENDLY PLACE TO TRADE"

GRADUATIONS CARDS AND GIFTS
AT

WOOTTEN'S BOOK STORE

CAMPUS

MILLEDGEVILLE, GEORGIA

Wednesday, June 3

Edward Everett Horton, In
"NOBODY'S FOOL"
100 reasons why you should see this show

Thurs.-Fri., June 4-5

"THE PRISONER OF SHARK ISLAND"
Warner Baxter

Saturday, June 6

"DANCING FEET"
Also Buck Jones
"ROARING WEST"

On The Stage

G. M. C. CADET
BATTALION BAND

Performances—
4:00 and 8:30 O'clock